Rites in the Codex
Rite	Tier	Obligation	What it changes	Sign / limit / push

Covenant talents
Name	Trigger / effect	Uses

Quick rule

Invoke a rite, mark its Obligation, then roll only if it calls for one. Push It marks one additional Obligation. Treat the Thiasos as a follower with tastes, loyalties, and a life in the scene - never as equipment.

Invoker

A symbol is a door you have agreed to carry.

Begin a Song as an action; it resolves at the start of your next turn. Push It to resolve immediately, mark 1 Fatigue, and advance Corruption. When Corruption fills, the last Patron sung through leaves both a boon and a burden.

Hedge craft and workings
Character _____	Practice / tradition ____	Tier _____	XP _____

The trained mind
Character _____	Practice / tradition ____	Tier _____	XP _____

Mental strain

Psionic arts

Art	Attribute	DV	Reach / effect	Strain / risk / tell

Talents and techniques

Name	Trigger / effect	Uses

Working note

Record not only what an art can reach, but what the character considers trespass. Psionic danger is clearest when the boundary was understood before it was crossed.

Leash ☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐

Capacity Bound spirit _____

Its nature _____

What would strain the bond _____

What it does if the leash fills _____

Call, bind, command

Call as 1 action. Bind by spending 1 Boon or marking 1 Fatigue. One simple command each round is free; a complex command uses the summoner's action.

Spirits known and pacts kept
Name	Cap	Nature	Services / gifts	Terms / favored bond

Pactwright talents
Name	Trigger / effect	Uses

Leash reminders

The leash strains when a spirit is harmed, commanded against its nature, made to cross a ward, or left acting while the summoner divides their attention. A filled leash gives the spirit one act according to its nature before the bond breaks.

Monastic Practice

The pause is part of the answer.

Tradition and vows
Tradition / teacher _____

Meditation intent _____
Breath scar or lasting mark _____

Techniques
Name	Breath / trigger	Effect	Cost	What it looks like

Unarmed and defensive talents
Name	Trigger / effect	Uses

Practice note
Most traditions spend Fatigue or Boons rather than mark Obligation or Corruption. Patron-tied traditions may be different. Record the discipline as lived practice: who taught it, which vow gives it shape, and what mastery is doing to the character.
